

U. S. SHIPS SENT ACROSS THE SEA

Uncle Sam Jumps on the Sultan of Turkey.

"PLAY OR PAY" THE RULE LAID DOWN.

Squadron Has Orders to Collect The Indemnity For the Outrages and Losses Perpetrated On the American Missionaries During the Recent Outbreak, and in Case The Turks Refuse, To Open Fire on Constantinople.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The administration has decided to send a hostile fleet to Turkey to demand indemnity for the losses suffered by the American missionaries in the recent disturbances. The same will be collected, the alternative being to open fire on the Turkish capital.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The president Friday sent a message to congress, calling attention to the necessity for prompt legislation in order to remove the limitation of the time within which suits may be brought by the government to annul unlawful or unauthorized grants of public lands.

By the act of March 3, 1887, the secretary of the interior is directed to adjust the railroad land grants which may be unadjusted; and it is provided if it shall appear upon the completion of such adjustment or sooner that the lands have been from any cause erroneously certified or patented by the United States to or for the use of a company claiming under any of said grants, it shall be the duty of the secretary of the interior to demand a reconveyance of the title to all lands so erroneously certified or patented; and on failure of the company to make such reconveyance within ninety days the attorney general is required to institute and prosecute in the proper courts necessary proceedings to restore title to said lands to the United States.

The demands made under this act have been numerous, and in some cases have resulted in the reversion of title to the lands in the United States upon demand; but in most cases the demand has been refused and suits have been necessary. In some of the grants, notably the corporation grants, the lack of surveys up to the present time has made the completion of the work impossible. Decisions rendered by the interior department in numerous conflicts have been carried into the courts. The construction of the department has generally been sustained when final determination has been reached, but many of the cases are still pending in the courts, not yet having been decided. Some of these cases, while involving immediately the title to only one particular tract, will, when decided, furnish a rule of construction to control the disposition of the title to thousands of acres of other lands in the same situation. Until the courts pass upon these questions, final adjustment cannot be made.

By section 8 of the act of March 3, 1891, it is expressly enacted that suits by the United States to vacate and annul any patent shall only be brought within five years from the passage of this act. This period of five years will expire on March 3, 1896. Of course, no suit by the United States to secure the cancellation of a patent in this class of cases after that date would be effective. Indeed, it is now too late to institute proceedings looking to any such suit, inasmuch as demand has to be first made on the company, and thereafter ninety days allowed for compliance or refusal, in accordance with the act of March 3, 1887. Before the expiration of the period the statute would bar the right of recovery by the government, and the benefits of anticipated favorable decisions of the courts would be lost, so far as they might determine the character and disposition of the grants similar to those directly involved in pending cases. Legislation establishing limitations against the right of the government to sue is an innovation not entirely consistent with the general history of the right of the government, for it has uniformly been held that time did not bar the sovereign power from the assertion of its rights. The government, the president says, should not be prevented from going into the courts to right wrongs perpetrated by its agents, or any other parties, and by which much of the public domain may be diverted from the people at large to corporate uses. The message concludes:

"In these circumstances, it seems to me that the act of 1891 should be so amended as not to apply to suits brought to recover title to lands certified or patented on account of railroad or other grants. And I respectfully urge upon congress speedy action to the end suggested, so that the adjustment of these grants may proceed without the interposition of a bar, through the lapse of time, against the right of recovery by the government in proper cases."

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

PENSION BILL PASSED.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The house Friday passed the pension appropriation bill, for the consideration of which it has devoted the entire week, and then adjourned until Monday. Mr. Bartlett (dem., N. Y.) raised points of order against all new legislation proposed in the way of amendments, such as looking to making a pension a "vested right," etc., and Mr. Dingley of Maine, who was in the chair, sustained them. In this way the clause in the bill changing existing law so as to allow widows to obtain pensions under the act of 1890, whose net incomes did not exceed $500 per annum, was stricken out.

Mr. Bartlett, however, did not raise the point against the provisions making pensions under the act of 1890 rejected, suspended, or dismissed, and afterward allowed to date from their first application.

It was announced in the debate that bills covering the amendments ruled out would be reported from the invalid pensions committee.

The pension bill, as passed, carries $141,325,820, about $50,000 less than the estimate. The bill was passed about fifty days ahead of any previous pension appropriation bill.

There was a most unusual demonstration at the opening of the session of the house. The blind chaplain prayed fervently for "struggling Cuba" and the "success of her battle for independence," and when he concluded the sentiments he had expressed were given a hearty round of applause.

The president's special message urging the necessity for immediate legislation to extend the limit of time allowed the government in which to bring suits to annul grants of public lands was laid before the house and referred to the committee on public lands.

The house then went into committee of the whole for the consideration of the pension appropriation bill. The general debate on the bill closed Thursday and the bill was open to amendment under the five-minute rule.

At the conclusion of the consideration of the bill Mr. Graft (rep., Ill.) said that in justice to himself and those like him who believed that a pension was a "vested right," he desired to state that his amendment had been offered because of the manifest disposition of the chairman of the committee of the whole to rule it out, but he confidently predicted that the committee on invalid pensions would shortly report a bill for that purpose. The committee then rose, and the bill was amended was passed.

Then, at 4:50 p. m., the house adjourned until Monday.

TO AFFIRM MONROE DOCTRINE.

Senate Foreign Affairs Committee Will Report Davis Resolution.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The senate committee on foreign relations was in session Friday. The only question before it was the legislative affirmation of the Monroe doctrine, and the discussion proceeded upon the basis of a resolution Senator Davis had prepared under the instructions of the committee. The terms of the resolution are known only to the members of the committee. It was voted to report the Davis resolution with a few verbal modifications suggested by the committee. It is understood that the resolution will be presented to the senate on Monday.

The most important feature is that which touches upon a new phase of the Venezuelan question; the report that England and Venezuela may reach an agreement, and that English money will settle the boundary dispute. The resolution declares that in case boundary disputes on the American continent between foreign governments are decided by arbitration, agreement, purchase or in any manner whatever, the United States shall be the sole judge as to whether the Monroe doctrine has been violated in such arbitration or agreement. In fact, it means that arbitration or agreement between foreign governments and governments on the American continent as to boundary lines cannot become binding or effective unless sanctioned by the United States, and that this government is satisfied that no part of the American continent has been ceded to a foreign power by such arbitration or agreement. This practically makes the United States the arbitrator between foreign governments and those of the American continent in all boundary disputes.

The immediate effect of this resolution would be to prevent either France or England purchasing Cuba, and would prevent Venezuela adjusting her dispute with England on a cash basis. There is little doubt that it will be favorably received by the senate. There is even less doubt that it will pass the house.

CRISIS IS AT HAND.

Venezuelan Commission Summoned to Consider the Situation.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The utmost gravity attaches to the report issued last evening that a special meeting of the Venezuelan commission has been called for this morning. It was understood the commission would not meet for ten days, or until its new quarters had been prepared. It is intimated the action was taken at the imperative demand of President Cleveland. Senator Cullom, a member of the committee on foreign relations, declared unequivocally that within the last twelve hours the Venezuelan situation had assumed a new gravity, and that it now looked as if the United States was to be ambushed. He predicted that the committee on foreign relations would be called together early in the week, and both houses of congress will make an effort to find out the true intentions of the English government.

A MOTHER'S DEATH MUST BE PAID FOR

ORPHANED CHILDREN WIN A SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

Heirs of Mrs. John Stranch Who Walked Off the Open Draw of The Bridge at Manitowoc Are Awarded a Verdict of $1,700 By The Jury.

Manitowoc, Wis., Jan. 18.—[Special]—The jury in the case of the heirs of Mrs. John Stranch against the city, after being out all night, awarded the plaintiffs a verdict for $1,700 damages. The mother of the children was drowned by walking off the open draw at Main street bridge, four years ago, and the suit was to recover satisfaction for her death.

FRIGHTFUL RAILROAD WRECK.

Collision on the Midland Terminal Railway Near Victor, Colo.

Victor, Colo., Jan. 18.—A frightful train collision occurred on the Midland Terminal railway. Twenty-two passengers were injured; six seriously, one or two of whom will probably die. The passenger train for Colorado Springs was backing out of the main track in the cut when it was met by an empty run-away box car, which broke loose near Independence station, three-quarters of a mile above where the collision occurred. It struck the first coach on the passenger train with terrific force and threw the latter from the track. The box car and coach were telescoped for about fifteen feet. The injured are: Mrs. F. H. Lightfoot, Jewell City, Kan., slightly.

D. C. Renard, bruised on head and left arm.

R. C. Cluff, Colorado Springs, leg and body badly injured.

O. A. Alexander, Colorado Springs, civil engineer Midland Terminal railway, seriously and probably fatally injured.

Mr. Garrison, Denver, several bruises head and body.

T. J. Kallaman, Topeka, Kan., seriously bruised about the head.

W. A. L. Thompson, Topeka, Kan., injured in back and legs.

Mrs. D. C. McGregor, Victor, badly cut in face.

D. W. Pertridge, cut on head and neck, injuries not serious.

E. V. Bogart of Bogart mine on Raven Hill, cut in head.

Robert Davison, Colorado Springs, bad cut on head.

Dr. S. M. Morrison, Colorado Springs, cut on head.

Ten others received slight injuries.

HARRISON WILL WED.

Ex-President to Marry Mrs. Dimmick Soon After Lent.

New York, Jan. 18.—Last night Mr. Tibbitts, General Harrison's private secretary, made the following statement in his room, to members of the press:

"Gen. Harrison authorizes the announcement that he and Mrs. Dimmick are engaged to be married, and that the marriage will not take place until after Lent."

When the secretary had finished reading the announcement he refused to say anything further, other than that ex-President Harrison would probably leave here for Indianapolis on Monday, returning to Washington in time to argue the Stanford law suit.

Mrs. Dimmick, to whom the General is engaged, is better known in Indianapolis and Washington than in New York. During the life of Mrs. Harrison, who was her aunt, Mrs. Dimmick practically governed Mr. Harrison's household in Indianapolis, and directed the household affairs of the White House during the period of Mrs. Harrison's illness and prior to her death. That Mrs. Dimmick was a favorite with the then president in Washington is without a doubt. At all state functions she received with Mrs. Harrison and acted in the latter's place later when she was sick. It is understood that the step was not taken by Gen. Harrison without consulting his children, of whom he is very fond. They are said to be opposed to the marriage. Mrs. Dimmick is 40 years of age, tall, and a strikingly handsome brunette.

Pickler Bill Endorsed.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Members of the pension committee of the G. A. R. occupied the attention of the house committee on invalid pensions Friday. Those present included General Walker, commander-in-chief, member ex-officio of the committee; General Robert Beath of Philadelphia, and General Ketchum of Indiana. The committee urged action by congress that will do away with much of the technicality that they say now exists in the prosecution of claims for pensions. The Pickler bill, which is designed to bring about the changes desired by the Grand Army, received the committee's indorsement.

Combination in Indiana Denied.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 18.—The managers of E. H. Nebeker's campaign for the chairmanship of the republican state committee, who have been charged with causing a serious breach in the party, gave out a statement yesterday, in which they say William D. Owen has not announced that he is a candidate for governor, and that there is no effort on their part to form a combination which includes Nebeker for chairman, Owen for governor, and William R. McKee for United States senator.

AN ELKHORN LADY INSTANTLY KILLED

MRS. ELMER WHITMORE MET A TRAGIC DEATH.

Rifle That Was Hanging on The Wall Fell, and Being Discharged By The Concussion Sent a Bullet Into Her Body—The Unfortunate Woman Died at Once.

Elkhorn, Wis., Jan. 18.—[Special]—Mrs. Elmore Whitmore was shot this morning and killed by the accidental discharge of a rifle. The weapon was hanging on the wall and fell to the floor, being discharged by the concussion, the ball striking Mrs. Whitmore in a vital spot.

TO SELECT A CITY.

Populist Leaders Gather to Choose a Convention Site.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 18.—The national committee of Populists met at the Lindell hotel at 10 o'clock Friday morning. The fixing of the basis of representation involved the committee in an animated and acrimonious debate. Ignatius Donnelly wanted to so restrict representation this year as to have not over 1,200 delegates in the convention. To arrive at this result Mr. Donnelly suggested as the basis of representation one delegate from each congressional district in the United States, two delegates at large from each state, and in addition to these one delegate for each 1,000 Populist votes polled in 1892 and one for each fraction thereof over 500. The basis of representation as finally adopted provides for a convention of 1,260 delegates.

"I don't believe our next platform will be as voluminous or as radical on a number of issues as the Omaha platform," said Ignatius Donnelly. "The silver question will be the main issue of our campaign, and I expect it to be so declared by the platform. And if the two old parties declare for the single standard and nominate 'gold bugs,' which they are almost certain to do, you will see us sweep the country. While we haven't weakened the least bit in our contention for sub-treasures and the government ownership of transportation and telegraph lines yet, we will probably eliminate those planks from our platform this year for the reason that they represent policies or matters of legislative detail and not essential principles."

The executive committee went into executive session behind closed doors at 2 o'clock and consumed the entire afternoon in a discussion of the basis of representation. The evening was devoted to hearing the claims of cities bidding for the national convention. St. Louis, Chicago, Indianapolis, Dallas, Milwaukee and Minneapolis are all aspirants, and a vote will be taken to-day. The date of the convention will probably be July 15, as a majority of the committee favor a short campaign.

A proposition which raised much discussion and enough opposition to defeat it was to empower the executive committee of the national committee to make arrangements with the Bimetallist league to hold its national convention at the same time and place decided upon for the national Populist convention. Senator Butler of North Carolina opposed it, claiming that such action would be demeaning to the Populists. He proposed that the Populist national committee decide upon the time and place of meeting, and then invite the Bimetallists and others interested to meet at the same time. This was adopted.

Success of the Loan Assured.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Treasury officials continue to express the belief that the success of the bond sale is already assured. It is now in their opinion only a question as to the amount of premium that will be offered upon the bonds. And it seems probable from what can be gathered that the premium offered will be considerably in excess of the rates which Mr. Morgan proposed as the basis for the operation of this syndicate. Every effort is being made by the treasury department to popularize the loan. The latest one is the circular from the comptroller of the currency to national banks, urging them to call the matter to the attention of their customers, and offer them such facilities as are practicable for making subscriptions to the loan itself. There seems a likelihood of pretty cordial co-operation on the part of the bankers.

Homestead Law Revived.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The house committee on public lands has decided to report the free home bill proposed by Chairman Lacey of Iowa, which is practically a revival of the old homestead laws. Under this bill all settlers on Indian lands that are opened to settlement may acquire title to the lands without paying for them by a residence of five years. If they desire to secure their titles before the expiration of five years they will be able to do so by paying the rates fixed by the government.

Jameson's Men on English Soil.

London, Jan. 18.—A Cape Town dispatch to the Times says: "Dr. Jameson's men are now being handed over to a military escort at the Natal border. Each man signs a declaration promising to proceed to England as a prisoner, and not to raise any question as to his legal custody en route, and not to attempt to escape."

THE TRADE REVIEW BY DUN & CO

The Situation is No Favorable to Business as Doubt Rule.

New York, Jan. 18.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "The situation could hardly be more perplexing for business men. Practical merchants, manufacturers or bankers can have little sympathy for those who minimize their difficulties. None doubts that the government will raise money to meet obligations, but how far the money market will be disturbed or the treasury reserve first diminished none can say. The business world cannot know as yet how far foreign questions may upset calculations, though there seems every reason to expect peaceful settlement. It cannot know what may be the duties on any important class of imports a month hence, whether imports are likely to exceed exports and draw away gold, or whether the deficit of revenue will continue, or what other taxation will be levied. Failure of the senate, thus far, to take any action upon financial measures proposed by the president, or those passed by the house, affects unfavorably all branches of business. Under such adverse circumstances it is actually encouraging that shrinkage in transactions and resulting commercial disasters have not been greater. But four large failures within a day or two indicate that the same condition cannot continue without much embarrassment."

"Speculation in products was not very active, and wheat was practically unchanged, though Atlantic exports for two weeks, flour included, have been 4,483,190 bushels, against 4,273,125 bushels last year. Western receipts still make short-crop predictions ridiculous, amounting for two weeks of January to 5,421,976 bushels, against 2,559,122 bushels last year. Corn receipts were also liberal, and the exports were about five times those of last year's."

"Cotton receipts still indicate a yield neither as small as Mr. Neill's reiterated estimate of 6,500,000 bales nor as large as the 7,000,000 bales estimated by others; but it is yet to be seen whether supplies held for better prices are of consequence. The price declined 1/2 cent, with accounts of narrower demand by spinners abroad and declining prices for goods in this country."

"No branch of manufactures has progress, for all are unavoidably waiting, both for settlement of financial doubts, and for a demand, which does not appear."

"Cotton goods are not quotably lower, but concessions to secure business are reported in many instances, and many of the mills have been running largely in anticipation of orders not yet received. There is a little inquiry for staples, with indications that dealers' stocks are running low."

"The opening of fine and fancy wools has brought no change in prices, and revisions caused by recent openings of worsteds have been generally toward lower prices. There has been somewhat more demand, but not enough to keep most of the mills running full. Sales of wool in two weeks have been 4,994,300 pounds of domestic and 6,823,300 foreign, against 6,269,615 pounds domestic and 4,410,200 pounds of foreign last year."

"The pig iron output weekly Jan 1 was 207,481 tons, a decrease of 9,316, or 4.3 per cent in December, and unsold stocks increased 91,125 tons, or over 20,000 weekly, while the great steel companies, whose stocks are not reported, produced in December 342,936 tons. The production is so far beyond the present demand for finished products that temporary stoppage of many furnaces is expected. Yet pig iron is higher, Bessemer about 50 cents, and gray forge and anthracite 25 cents, although finished products are generally weaker, with less demand. Controllers of coke and ore output are said to have agreed to maintain prices above those of 1895, which means dearer pig iron, but if orders for finished products do not materially increase the advance in materials can hardly be maintained. Minor metals are weaker, with copper at 9.75 cents, about 5,000 tons of lead at 3 cents, and tin at 13 cents."

"Failures for the past week have been much larger in magnitude, numbering 295 in the United States, against 373 last year, and 81 in Canada, against 60 last year."

The Sugar Bounty Cases.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Some talk concerning the resolution indorsed by Mr. Boatner of Louisiana for an investigation of Comptroller Bowler's course in the sugar bounty appropriation occurred in the house committee on judiciary Friday. It was concluded to let it lie over until the next meeting, when the subcommittee probably will report a substitute, providing for an inquiry into the law under which the comptroller claims to act, with a recommendation as to whether further legislation is needed to define and restrict the comptroller's duties. The preamble of Mr. Boatner's resolution, reciting the effects of Mr. Bowler's course, will not be adopted, as the committee thinks it has no official knowledge of the statements made.

Cruelty at Elgin Asylum.

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 18.—J. H. Bliss, of this city, who has resided here for many years, has returned from the Elgin asylum, where he was sent in May, 1894, being pronounced cured now. He makes serious charges of cruelty and carelessness against attendants of the institution. The matter will be investigated.

Don't fail to read the Continentals. Joining house ad. in tonight's paper.

J. BULL'S BOATS SHUN AMERICA

The Flying Squadron Will Not Come This Way.

IT WILL NOT ENTER UNCLE SAM'S WATERS.

British Admiralty Office So Cabled the State Department Today—Fleet Has Left Portsmouth Under Sealed Orders—Alarming Reports Circulated That Its Destination Is the Bermuda Islands From Whence It Can Threaten America.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The British Admiralty has cabled the state department that the flying squadron will not enter American waters.

Portsmouth, Eng., Jan. 18.—The flying squadron, consisting of the battleship Revenge, flagship, Rear Admiral Alfred T. Dale; the battleship Royal Oak, the first-class cruisers Gibraltar and Theseus and the second-class cruisers Charybdis and Hermione, together with six first-class torpedo boat destroyers, assembled at Spithead at noon Friday. It is reported that the destination of this squadron, after leaving Bantry Bay, Ireland, will be the Bermudas. The ships sail under sealed orders.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The cable reports from Portsmouth, England, whence the British flying squadron is about to sail, that its destination may be the Bermudas cannot be confirmed in any official quarter here and the report is taken with considerable allowance. No information on the subject has come to the departments or to the British embassy.

It is doubted whether Great Britain would send such a powerful fleet into American waters at this time, when its presence in force sufficient to overcome our North Atlantic squadron almost certainly would be regarded as a hostile demonstration certainly not called for as long as diplomacy has not yet exhausted its resources in the settlement of the differences between the United States and Great Britain. The Bermudas, lying between 600 and 700 miles off our coast, would afford an admirable base of operations against any point from Cape Cod down to Key West, and while the islands are part of the British Empire the assemblage of a powerful fleet there could not be regarded with indifference by the United States government, unless its presence was explained satisfactorily.

MORE MAXIM GUNS.

Great Britain Sent Them to Georgetown Some Time Ago.

New York, Jan. 18.—A dispatch to the World from London says: "Your correspondent has heard from a seemingly reliable source, though it has not been published here, that three new Maxim guns were dispatched to Georgetown some time ago by order of the British government. These, if the story is true, were in addition to the two guns the British Guiana authorities bought last November by the special direction of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain."

"The reports concerning the destination of the British flying squadron cannot be more than the merest speculation, as it sails under sealed orders, and even the admiral in command will be in ignorance of his destination until the seal is broken at the prescribed distance from land. It is pretty generally admitted that after the squadron assembles at Spithead and is inspected from Osborne by Queen Victoria, it will steam to Bantry Bay, Ireland. Beyond that there is no glimmering of authoritative information as to its objective point. It could make a course equally well for Cape Town, or Delagoa Bay, or the Caribbean Sea."

"If the last named is its destination, it will be dispatched to some place, possibly Bermuda or Jamaica, from which it can conveniently combine with the war ships on the West Indian station."

"The ultimatum from Great Britain to Venezuela demanded payment of indemnity for the attack on the British Guiana police within three months. That ultimatum has been delivered at least six weeks, probably longer, and no reply or offer of payment is yet known to have been made by the Venezuelan government. In fact, it was stated by the Caracas correspondent of the World some weeks ago that the Venezuelans insisted that the indemnity and the boundary questions should be treated as one, a proposition which if made to Great Britain would certainly be rejected."

"These facts give color to the suggestion that the true object of the flying squadron is to operate against Venezuela, should she refuse to pay the indemnity demanded for the attack on the British colonial police. On the other hand, the British fleet now in the neighborhood of Venezuela is quite large enough, as was proved at Corinto, to overawe any South American republic."

Boers Will Resist Foreign Protection.

Pretoria, Jan. 18.—It is officially stated here that Dr. Jameson and the others who are in prison with him will be released unconditionally.

EPISCOPAL BELIEF TO BE EXPLAINED

HERRMANN A LOVER OF HORSES

Great Magician Carries His Coach and Four with Him.

Herrmann, the magician, carries with him on his travels, five magnificent horses, which he drives out whenever the weather is fine, in whatever city he may happen to be, in tandem and Tally Ho. He refused $10,000 for these animals, which have travelled with him now altogether over 12,000 miles. Herrmann has a special palace car built costing over $30,000, in which he and his wife live while en route and a special palace baggage car for his horses, wagons, etc. He will be at the Myers Grand,
Tuesday night and Janesville people may see his blooded equines during the day.

SIX INSANE WOMEN WERE HERE

Janesville Passenger Depot Was a Lively Place This Morning.

Six insane women stepped from the "accommodation" to the Janesville depot platform this morning. They were in charge of Keeper R. Price and wife, and were being transferred from Juneau to Green county.
"These girls have all been to Mendota, and are all pronounced incurable," remarked Keeper Price to a Gazette man; "and it keeps my wife and I rather busy looking out for them."
The party had to wait an hour and a half at the St. Paul depot, and during that time the insane people had all the room they wanted.

REV. A. PORTER AT SHOPIERE.

First Methodist Pastor is Doing Evangelistic Work at That Village.

Rev. Andrew Porter, the pastor of the First M. E. church greatly regrets that he cannot be present in the revival services being held in the city, but by an arrangement for an exchange of work, made at the close of the last session of the annual conference he is engaged with Rev. E.
K. Manston in holding revival services at Shopiere.

IN ROCK, DANE AND WALWORTH

BELOIT wants railway gates.

The Beloit city band is organized.
There are wolves as New Richmond.

A tree fell on Fred Randall at Albion.

The Cambridge railroad is still unfinished.

JAMES E. WILCOX of Evansville, has been given a pension.

OTTO NUNN of Magnolia, has been granted an increase of pension.

J. B. CHRISTOPHER found a genuine Indian tomahawk in a marsh near Lake Geneva.

WHILE Jesse Brabazon of Sugar
Creek, was returning home his horse got frightened and ran away, and jumped a four board fence taking the buggy with it.

A serious accident befell Eugene Gaylord of East Delavan while sawing wood for B. Merence. The saw broke in pieces, one side striking Mr.
Gaylord on the foot. One consolation for him, he had recently taken out an accident policy.

the Board H. J. Cunningham, Treasurer O. G. Bennett, General Secretary
J. C. Kline and Chairman of the Financial Committee H. J. Cunningham.
These reports were of a very encouraging nature and showed the association to be in a flourishing condition. There are now about two hundred members and some forty applications are in hand.

The election of officers made but one change in the staff, W. S. Jeffris succeeding Dr. O. G. Bennett as treasurer.

ODD FELLOWS ARE INSTALLED.

erson, and O. E. Smith, Jr.

DAUGHTERS OF THE KING MEET

Officers Were Chosen and the Year's Work Was Reviewed.

The "Daughters of the King," of Christ church, held an interesting business meeting at the Parish house;
reviewed the year's work; and elected new officers. The report of the treasurer, Miss Sarah Richardson, showed that the money had been spent in many ways in doing good for the poor of the city, and that the society was in a flourishing condition. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—Mrs. William Ruger.
Vice President—Mrs. E. E. Spalding.
Secretary—Mrs. C. E. Pierce.
Treasurer—Miss May Bostwick.

PRINTING AT HAND TIMES PRICES

Gazette Job Rooms Set the Pace for High

800 GAS STOVES IN USE HERE

Janesville Ahead of Other Cities In The State In This Line.

"It is rather surprising but nevertheless true that in the city of Janesville there are today nearly eight hundred gas stoves in use," remarked Superintendent Wortendyke of the New Gas Light company. "Janesville is far ahead of the other towns of its size in Wisconsin and uses more gas stoves, proportionately than Milwaukee."

A Stitch in Time

Saves nine, says the old proverb. Mr. J.
F. Wassel, printer
Dwight, Ill., says:

"I neglected what seemed a slight ailment until I became so broken down
from rheumatism that I had to give up my work and
became invalid.
I yielded to my wife's proposition to take Hood's Sas-saparilla. I used 2 bottles, have entirely recovered strength and enjoy life like a new man. My wife says

About Coins.

As viewed from a numismatic standpoint, it is the condition of a coin which fixes its value. It is not the date or age, except in less than thirty instances, that is sought for at the big quoted premiums. Pierced, plugged, badly worn, scratched coins, or those on which the dates are illegible, have no particular value. A perfectly uncirculated cent of 1799 would easily bring $100, whereas a good cent of the same coin can be purchased for $10. For gold there is but a limited numismatic demand and the supply is greatly in excess of that demand. The double eagle of 1849 is worth about $300. All gold dollars are at a premium and are worth from $1.20 to $1.40 each. Those dated 1863, 1864 and 1865 command from $2.50 to $4 each and 1875, $8. Most numismatic transactions are in silver coins. A dollar of 1804 is worth $400; a half dollar of 1797 brings $40 and a quarter of 1827 commands $40. The dime of 1804 is the most valuable, being worth $10 and the half-dime of 1802 easily holds the record at $63. A large copper cent of 1799 would bring $25 and a half-cent of 1796 is in demand at $36. —New York World.

An Indiana Man's Experience.

There is an anecdote told of an Indiana man who was presenting a letter of introduction to a merchant in the Ecuadorian capital, Quito. Ecuador is famous for its earthquakes. All the houses there are but one story in height and the windows and doors of the thick walls are the universal niches for safety. The Indiana man had just finished an elaborate pantomime in an attempt to convey without words his joy at meeting the Spanish merchant.

In the middle of it came an earthquake shock. Like a flash the merchant shot into one of the window niches, yelling to the stranger, "Pronto! Pronto!" ("Quick! Quick!")

The traveler was narrating it subsequently when earthquake stories came up.

"I didn't know no Spanish and I didn't know what 'pronto' meant, but you bet I prontoed," said the Indiana man. —San Francisco Argonaut.

Special Revelations.

If, in the atmosphere generated by the earlier developed sciences, the older growths of biblical interpretation have drooped and withered and are evidently perishing, new and better growths with roots running down into the newer sciences have arisen.

Comparative mythology and folklore, comparative religion and literature, by searching out and laying side by side the main facts in the upward struggle of humanity in various old seats of civilization, are giving a new interpretation of these great problems which agnostic theology has long labored in vain to solve.

Thus, while they have established the fact that accounts formerly supposed to be special revelations to Jews and Christians are but repetitions of widespread legends dating from far earlier civilizations and that beliefs formerly thought fundamental to Judaism and Christianity are simply based on ancient myths, they have also begun to impress upon the intellect and conscience of the thinking world the fact that religious and moral truths thus disengaged from the old masses of myth and legend are all the more beautiful and serviceable and that all individual or national life of any value must be vitalized by them.—Popular Science Monthly.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Once Believed to Be the Only Cure for Piles and Rectal Diseases.

A Better Way Now Discovered, Which Cures Every Form of Piles Without Pain or Inconvenience.

Many people suffer the pain, annoyance and often serious results from piles for years, and after trying the many lotions, salves, ointments and so called cures without cure or relief, give up the hope of a final cure, rather than submit to the intense pain and danger to life which a surgical operation involves.

Happily all this suffering is no longer necessary, since the discovery of the Pyramid Pile Cure; a remedy which is approved by the medical profession, as being absolutely safe, free from any trace of opiates, narcotic or mineral poisons and which may be depended upon as a certain cure (not merely relief) in any form of Piles, whether itching, bleeding, bleeding or protruding. Some of the hundreds of cures recently made are little short of marvelous, as a perusal of the following will demonstrate.

Major Dean, of Columbus, Ohio, says: I wish to add to the number of certificates as to the benefits derived from the Pyramid Pile Cure. I suffered from Piles for forty years, and two boxes of the Pyramid Pile Cure has effectually cured me.

Dr. J. W. Morgan, Leonardville, Kan., writes: I have used a box of Pyramid Pile Cure and received more benefit and relief than from any remedy I had used in the past twenty-two years.

James Emerson, Dubuque, Iowa, says: I suffered from Piles for six years; have just used the Pyramid Pile Cure and am a well man.

Mrs. M. C. Hinkley, 601 Mississippi St., Indianapolis, Ind., says: Have been a sufferer from the pain and annoyance of Piles for fifteen years, the Pyramid Pile Cure and Pyramid Pills gave me immediate relief and in a short time a complete cure.

The Pyramid Pile Cure may be found at druggists at 50 cts. and $1.00 per package. A book on cause and cure of Piles will be sent by mail, by addressing the Pyramid Drug Co., Albion, Mich.

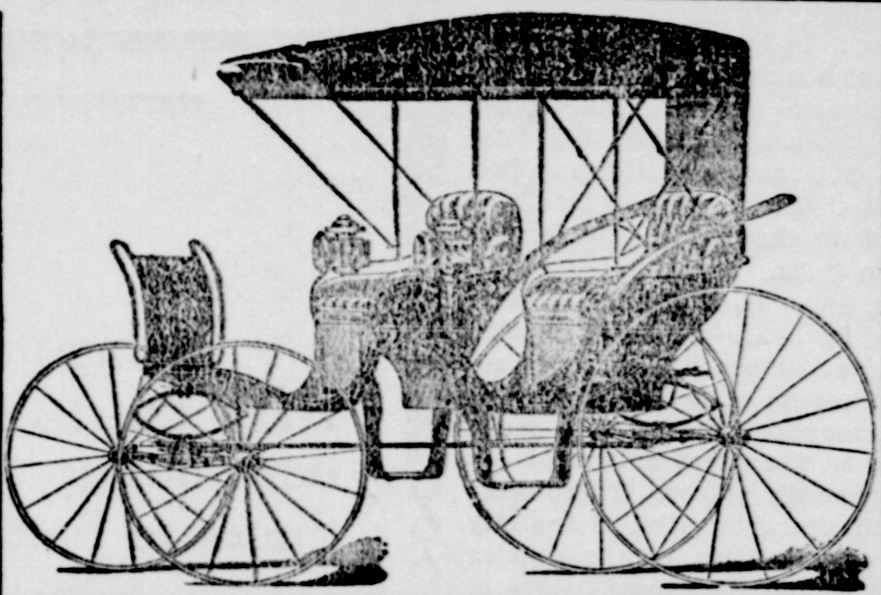

COUGHS AND COLDS.

ELY'S PINEOLA BALSAM is a sure remedy for coughs, colds, sore throat and for asthma. It soothes the inflamed membrane of the throat, and relieves the cough, and relieves the chest.

CONSUMPTIVES will invariably derive benefit from its use. Many who suppose they are too far gone to be cured are only suffering from a chronic cold, or deep-seated inflammation, often aggravated by catarrh. For catarrh of the Ely's Cream Balm. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Cream Balm, 50 cts. per bottle; Ely's Pineola Balm, 25 cts. Sold by druggists. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1701—Frederick I proclaimed king of Prussia.

1782—Daniel Webster born at Salisbury, N. H.; died 1852.

1871—King William of Prussia crowned emperor of Germany at Versailles.

1873—Edward Bulwer, Lord Lytton, orator, poet and novelist, died; born 1807. Lord Lytton was the son of General Bulwer and Elizabeth Barbara Lytton.

He was educated at Trin. Hall, where he took a prize for versification. The first novel from this prolific and powerful author was published anonymously in his twenty-second year. It was severely handled by critics, but gave evidence of great power. After producing several strong historical romances he entered the lists of dramatic writers and after one failure made a success with "Richelieu" and "The Lady of Lyons."

1884—Ilma di Murska, opera singer of note in America and Europe, died in Munich; born 1834.

MAY END THE TROUBLE.

When the African rumpus subsides it may be found that Uncle Sam and John Bull have found time to reach an amicable agreement on the South American boundary question. The cordiality with which Colonial Secretary Chamberlain responded to the request of the United States, and his prompt instruction to Sir Hercules Robinson, governor of Cape Colony, to extend the same measure of protection to Americans as to British in the South African Republic, were significant of the existence of a conciliatory spirit in the British cabinet which should make the removal of all causes of difference between the two English speaking peoples a comparatively easy task. A courteous official notification from this government to Great Britain of the appointment and object of the Venezuelan commission would probably initiate a movement toward a complete understanding between the two nations.

In any event it will not be necessary for the Venezuelan commission to leave Washington in order to obtain evidence upon the question submitted for decision. The proofs are all documentary. The papers and maps constituting the case of Venezuela are understood to be ready for immediate submission, and copies of all the documents supporting the British claim will be published in a parliamentary "blue book." Documents not included in the official case of either of the contestants may readily be obtained from the Dutch, Spanish, French and other foreign archives upon request. The motion that the commissioners might be obliged to make a circuit of Europe and South America is incorrect; neither will it be necessary for them to visit the territory in dispute, since their object is not to make a detailed survey, but to discover evidence sufficient to establish a broad historic fact.

NOT AFTER CHEAP MONEY.

Russia has just issued a new silver mintage of rubles and half rubles, and a St. Petersburg correspondent states that "the new coins are practically equivalent in face value to the gold currency." But why did not the Russians adopt free silver coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1 with gold, in accordance with the enlightened principles of the bimetallicists of this country? By making such a coinage a legal tender for all debts, as our bimetallicists propose, Russia would be flooded with cheap money. But it is probable that Russia, with most other countries, has had quite enough experience with that kind of currency.

None but a heartless lot of supervisors would compel tramps to travel between Clinton and Janesville on car trucks and "blind fronts" again after years of riding on upholstered seats with an escort of constabulary.

Some day when the government has time for an experiment it might issue some bonds payable in silver only and see how the silver men would refuse to invest.

One thing The Gazette's bond problem seems to have developed—the kind of arithmetic used in the schools is not the kind used in banks.

Some democrat ought to volunteer as a presidential candidate, just to give an air of good faith to the convention advertisements.

With Foraker and McKinley pulling together in Ohio, republican prospects in the Buckeye state are of the best.

Even Harrison, the bridegroom, is not likely to be a figure sufficiently inspiring to rally the hosts in St. Louis next June.

CAMPOS IS RETIRED.

Spanish Cabinet Relieves Him from the Command in Cuba.

Madrid, Jan. 18.—The cabinet, at its session last evening, unanimously decided to supersede Captain General Martinez de Campos and his lieutenant, General Arderius, owing to differences which exist between them and the political parties in Cuba. General Marin and General Pando, who are now in command of Spanish troops in the province of Santiago de Cuba, will replace Generals Campos and Arderius temporarily. The names of General Polavieja and General Weyler are both mentioned for the post of commander-in-chief in Cuba.

Havana, Jan. 18.—Captain General

Havana, Jan. 20.—Captain General Martinez de Campos has formally resigned his command to General Marin. The ceremony took place with much solemnity in the great saloon of the captain general's palace. There were present all the authorities of the city and the chief officers of the regular army and of the volunteers. General Marin expressed his high regard for General Campos and reiterated, in the name of Cuba, of the army, and of the nation, that they held him in greater respect than ever. Campos complains that he has not been properly supported.

Hawaiian Cable Bills.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Edward L. Bayliss of New York, one of the projectors of the Pacific Cable company, which recently was given a hearing by the senate committee on foreign relations, Friday appeared before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce to explain the plans of his company, which he did at length. The Pacific Cable company was opposed by Mr. L. L. Spaulding of the Hawaiian Islands, who is interested in a rival company, and which, as projected, is to connect the United States and the Hawaiian Islands. The bill of the New Jersey Cable company, with which Mr. Spaulding is identified, has been referred to the foreign affairs committee and it is possible that each of the two committees will report a bill to the house.

Silver Senators Thanked.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 18.—At yesterday's session of the non-partisan bimetallic conference a telegram of thanks and encouragement was sent to United States Senators Morgan, Teller, Jones and others for their labors in behalf of free silver. There was appointed an executive committee of nine, whose duty it shall be to appoint the general committee of three from each congressional district provided for in the resolution, to organize the state and spread the gospel of free silver through a campaign of education.

How to Build a Road.

Seeing the necessity for a good road between Florence and their beautiful little city of Fiesole, the authorities of the latter place issued titles of nobility which were inscribed in a "book of gold," and for which titles good round sums were asked—from three hundred dollars up, according to the dignity of the title. Counts, barons and marquises were created by the score; a man who taught dancing in England became a baron, and a young clerk in a banking house bought the right to be called duke. The road is a fine one, and as the carriage rolls along it the visitor tries to fancy what it must have been like to go bumping along in the great sort of wicker basket, without wheels, that used to be drawn by two oxen.—Boston Commonwealth.

Caesar's Mistake.

Julius Caesar was a thin man, tall and with a very wrinkled, seamy countenance. His forehead was broad and full of small wrinkles, his eyes were not large but described as exceedingly bright and quick. His nose was of more than usual size and his chin full and prominent.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

ANOTHER CHEAP MAN IS AFTER GEN. DOE

A MERE MAJOR-CONGRESSMAN SEEKING NOTORIETY.

He Only Served Through the War and For Ten Years Thereafter, Yet He Dares to Criticise the Action of the Hero of the Eau Claire Strike.

A shameful story is told in the following dispatch from Washington: "Representative George W. Steele of Indiana, is not impressed with the importance of the services rendered by 'Gen.' Joseph B. Doe as assistant secretary of war. Major Steele is engaged at present in shying a few clubs in the direction of General Doe, although on the face of the movement the Indiana member has started, only the office of assistant secretary of war as held by a civilian appointee is obnoxious to him. Major Steele introduced a resolution in the house calling upon the secretary of war for an opinion whether after March 4, 1897, the duties of assistant secretary of war could not be more satisfactorily performed by the adjutant-general of the department or one of the commanding officers of the army. The suggestion was made by Mr. Cannon of Illinois, that the resolution should go to a committee, which cut off Steele's proposition that it be considered at once, and a few moments later the Indiana man withdrew the resolution. This afternoon in the course of some remarks on other matters pertaining to the soldiers of war, Major Steele took occasion to speak of his resolution and incidentally sharply to criticize General Doe, the present assistant secretary of war.

Humiliating to Army Officers.

"Major Steele said it was humiliating for old army officers to have their affairs passed upon by a man who had no more experience than militia service afforded, and he added that with the large number of experienced soldiers in and out of the army he thought the position of assistant secretary of war could be better filled and would give more satisfaction if filled by an old soldier. Major Steele served throughout the war, being mustered out as a lieutenant-colonel, and he immediately entered the regular army, serving for ten years. He served four terms in congress prior to 1890, and is now a member of the committee on military affairs. His attitude towards General Doe and towards the office of assistant secretary of war, filled by a civilian, is believed to have been taken as an expression of the feeling in the army toward General Doe, and among the old soldiers generally.

Wants No Civilian.

"But he has only sought up to this time to obtain an expression from the secretary of war as to the wisdom of keeping in the office of assistant secretary a civilian after the close of the present term. It is related by those who should have information on the subject that Steele's action is based in some measure also upon a feeling toward Doe which was engendered, as is claimed, by some slighting remarks Doe is alleged to have made respecting the board of managers of the National soldiers' homes, of which board Steele is a member. But Steele's action thus far is directed only to securing an expression from the secretary of war as to the advisability of longer continuing the policy of appointing a civilian to the office which was created by the the Fifty-first congress.

WHAT A TRAVELING MAN SEES.

He Tries to Buy Show Tickets and Gets a Lesson in Business Methods.

"I struck a town up north lately," said a traveling man, "and about the first thing I noticed was flaring posters announcing the appearance of a second rate star at the local opera house that evening. In the course of my business I found myself in a drug store where the advance sale of seats was held, and after selling a bill of goods, asked for a ticket to the evening's performance.

"Oh, said the young man behind the counter, those people ain't coming. They busted last week."

"Why don't you take down or cover up the posters, then?" I asked.

"Oh, everybody knows they ain't coming. It was in the papers."

"Sure enough. The management trusted to a dozen lines in the local papers to counteract the influence of several stands of black, red and yellow posters.

"And the papers did it.

"Can you think of any better illustration of the relative value of newspaper advertising and the other kind?"

IRISH ALLIANCE TO MAKE MERRY

Programme and Banquet To Be St. Patrick's Day Features.

The committee appointed by the Irish National Alliance met last evening to complete arrangements for the proposed banquet. It was decided to hold the banquet in the Armory on March 17, and to invite a number of prominent Irish American speakers to address the meeting. A pleasing programme was gotten up, consisting of music, toasts, declamations and songs, the design being to make the celebration of St. Patrick's day the best ever held in Rock county. All the Irish societies, patriotic, religious, benevolent and temperance, are invited to take part in a parade in the forenoon and there appears to be every prospect that the expectations of the committee will be fulfilled.

WILL RUN THE COURT ACCORDING TO LAW

JUDGE PHELPS REPLIES TO THE COUNTY BOARD.

Assures Supervisors That Any Dictation By That Body As to What He Shall or Shall Not Do Under Certain Conditions, Will Be Futile—His Letter.

Judge Phelps, of the Municipal Court, evidently proposes to run his business to suit himself, and assures the county board that any attempt to dictate, as to what he shall or shall not do in the matter of sentencing certain prisoners, will be futile. His reply to Clerk McIntyre to the resolution passed by the county board, was as follows:

JANESVILLE, JAN. 17, 1896.—HON. W. J. MCINTYRE, COUNTY CLERK, ROCK COUNTY.—DEAR SIR:—Receipt of certified copy of resolution of County Board introduced at its late session by Supervisor H. A. Egerton, alleging that the judge of the Municipal Court is sentencing a certain class of vagrants to the poor house for terms of from two to six months each, and resolving condemnation of the practice as being unjust to the tax-payers of Rock county, and to the honest poor who are inmates of said Poor House, is hereby acknowledged, and the same is placed on file, and shall have due consideration. Here I might well say, yours truly, sign my name, and attend to business.

However I am now ready to assure the board of supervisors and the honest poor, inmates of the county house, the tax payers, and all others, that the judge of the municipal court will in the future as in the past render such judgment and sentence in every case brought before him as shall appear to him after due consideration just to the accused and most conducive to the peace and dignity of the state. That is not only his prerogative, but imperative duty.

Therefore, so far as the resolution of the board of supervisors assumes to dictate to the court what its sentences shall be, or shall not be, in any case or class of cases, it is futile.

However, the judge of the municipal court is ready to co-operate with the board of supervisors in any legitimate effort to abate the tramp and vagrant nuisance, and the expense to the tax-payers arising therefrom. But he believes that the same will be more speedily abated by the Board of Supervisors exercising the power given it by Chapter 290 laws of 1895, than it will by resolutions of the board condemning the practice of the courts and its officers. Very Respectfully, M. M. PHELPS, Municipal Judge, Rock Co., Wis.

The sale began this morning and will end next Saturday and it will pay you to look in and see what great bargains are offered.

FULLER'S FEES CUT BY JUDGE BENNETT

THE ELKHORN JUSTICE'S SUIT IS DECIDED.

Court Held That The Action of the County Board In Refusing to Settle the Claim Was Proper and It Is Accordingly Sustained—Bee Hive Matter Is Ended.

Judge Bennett yesterday decided the case of Justice J. E. Fuller, of Elkhorn, versus the county board of Walworth County, against the justice.

The case was brought to Rock County on a change of venue, but the papers were not sufficient, so Judge Bennett sent the matter back. While Judge Clementson was here trying the Richardson case, Judge Bennett went to Elkhorn. The county filed an amended answer to the allegations of the justice setting up the claim that the justice had made his complaints in such a manner as to evade the county board's resolution. Judge Bennett heard the evidence and then decided the suit in favor of the defendants and sustaining the board in the refusal to settle Justice Fuller's bill.

An order was issued in the circuit court today by Judge Bennett that the stock of the Bee Hive store be turned over to Mr. Wolf, the successful bidder.

CREAMERY LIKELY TO BE OPENED

Farmers Will Doubtless Make Butter In The Town of La Prairie.

The project of starting a creamery in the town of La Prairie has taken new life and a business meeting was held last evening at the school house opposite the Proctor farm. At this meeting $1,000 in money was raised and the site was decided upon, it being opposite the Proctor farm, two miles south of the city, the use of the same being donated by G. A. Proctor. An adjourned meeting was called to order this afternoon at the Proctor warehouse on East Milwaukee street. Ex-Sheriff J. L. Bear was chairman and a committee consisting of Mr. Joiner, J. L. Bear and William Reed was appointed to solicit subscriptions, $3,000 being needed.

A Merciless Woman.

"Listen," she said, "and I will tell you my story."
 "Don't! don't!" he said, in a voice that shook in its emotion. "Remember that we are now strangers!"
 "You shall hear it," she hissed.
 "Not here! Spare me—spare me, in pity's name!"
 "I have no pity for such as you."
 He buried his face in his hands and she told him her story—aye, without skipping a page, from the preface clear through to the end of the 37th chapter. And when the gray twilight came the authoress laid the manuscript on the editor's prostrate form and strode away.—Washington Star.

What Made Him So.

John—Did your wife go to the country this year?
 Tompkins—Yes; she spent the summer with friends at Blue Point.
 John—You must have been pretty lonesome?
 Tompkins—Yes I was; especially Saturdays and Sundays.
 John—Why couldn't you arrange to spend those days with her?
 Tompkins—I did.—Harper's Bazar.

Truthful Johnnie.

"Johnnie, dear," said his mother, who was trying to inculcate a lesson in industry, "what do you suppose mamma would do for you if you should come to her some day and tell her that you loved your studies?"
 "Lick me for telling a falsehood," said dear little Johnnie, with the frankness of youth.—Pittsburgh Bulletin.

All He Bagged.

First Italian Count—Why, my dear fellow, where have you been for the past six months or so?
 Second Italian Count—Over in America hunting heiresses.
 First Italian Count—Did you bag anything?
 Second Italian Count—Yes, my trousers.—Somerville Journal.

Could Prove an Alibi.

Judge (gravely)—The prosecutor swears that you hit him twice upon the nose. Have you any denial to make?

Defendant (stoutly)—Yis, yer haner; it's false; Oi hit him but wanst upon th' nose. Th' second time Oi hit him where his nose hod bin.—Tit-Bits.

First Time He'd Heard It.

"Who is that fellow?"
 "I don't know; he hasn't been here very long, though."
 "How do you know?"
 "Heard him laugh at one of Symson's jokes last night at the club."—Chicago Record.

True Courtesy.

Bingo—We have the most good-natured minister you ever saw.
 Witherby—What hasedone to make you think so?
 Bingo—I met him after church the other day, and he wanted to know if I had rested well.—Puck.

Esprit de Corps.

The Lady—Are you too lazy to saw the wood?
 The Tramp—Lazy? No, madam. But there's a friend of mine comin' down the road and I'd be so mortified if he saw me doin' such a thing.—Brooklyn Life.

Two Birds with One Stone.

Goodfello—If my clothes were not too big for you, I'd give you an old suit.
 Hungry Hank (gratefully)—Boss, if you'd give me the price of a square meal, I warrant they'd fit me all right.—Truth.

An Idea.

"If history repeats itself,"
 He murmured in elation,
 "Hereafter I'll try ditto marks Instead of recitation."
 —Atchison Globe.

THAT'S WHY.

"What are you in for?"
 "Cause I can't git out!"—Life.

Not a Thing.

"Oh, I won't do a thing to you."
 He hissed, with a villain's smile,
 For he was a loathsome, unclean tramp,
 Who talked to a cordwain pile.
 —Detroit Tribune.

He Went Cheap.

Boxall—Strange that Miss Peavick, whose father is only a millionaire, should have captured Lord De Liverus.
 Plugwinch—I suppose it was his bargain day.—Hay City Chat.

A Valuable Member.

De Hamme—Is that baseball player you took on last week any good?
 Barnes Turner—Yes, indeed. He catches every egg that is thrown at us.
 —Indianapolis Journal.

A Relief.

To let my wife have the last word,
 I rejoice, and why I do it,
 Is, when for long her talk I've heard
 I'm glad when she gets to it.
 —Bay City Chat.

Make Up Lost Time.

Mrs. Muchblest—I feel uneasy. The baby has not cried all day.
 Mr. Muchblest—So do I. It will probably cry all night.—N. Y. World.

She Knew.

Clara—He asked me to marry him last night.
 Maude—Did you ever see anyone propose so awkwardly?—Puck.

Attractive.

"Is she pretty?"
 "No; but she has a prepossessing frank account."—Puck.

RHODE STANDS PRE-EMINENT.

She is Still the Most Densely Populated State in the Union.

The census recently taken of the inhabitants of little Rhode Island preserves the state's claim, which, although often disputed, has not been overcome for more than a century, of being the most thickly populated state in the union. Rhode Island is the smallest of the states in respect of area, covering only 1,300 square miles, while Delaware has only 2,100, Connecticut 4,700 and New Jersey 8,300. But the population of the state is in excess of 350,000 and increasing rapidly. During the first twenty years following the revolutionary war Rhode Island, which became a state in 1790, gained very little in population, and in the year 1860 the total population reached only 175,000, or less than half of what it is today. With the enormous increase of manufactures, however, during and since the close of the war, the industrial population of the union's smallest state, which now has $10,000,000 invested in the cotton factories, and as much more in woolen mills, has taken a rapid jump upward. Since the taking of the first federal census in 1790, when there were on the average sixty-three persons to the square mile in Rhode Island, until the present, when the average number is 354, the state has retained its distinction of being the most closely populated in the country. Massachusetts has held the second place and Connecticut had the third until 1870, when New Jersey superseded it, and Connecticut fell to fourth place. Compared with some European countries, however, the present density of population does not appear so great. By the last official enumeration the population per square mile in Belgium was 530 and in England 605. Rhode Island has a water area of 165 square miles, which is more than one-tenth the total surface of the state. The gain in its population has been greatest, of course, in the large cities, but the manufacturing industries of Rhode Island are diffused so generally that there are more than a dozen small towns with rapidly increasing industrial population. Between 1870 and 1890 Pawtucket increased in population from 6,600 to 27,000. Woonsocket from 11,000 to 20,000 and Providence from 68,000 to 132,000. Bristol county, Rhode Island, which is south of Providence on the Massachusetts border, has an area of only twenty-five square miles, whereas New York, prior to the annexation of the new Westchester territory, had a land area of forty square miles. An erroneous notion prevails in many quarters that what regulates the density of population in a state or county is the compact habitation of all parts of it, but the fact is that a high percentage of population to the square mile comes from the number of cities and towns within the state or county, and railroads or waterways account largely for these.

GEORGIA REPARTEE.

One of the Funny Incidents Occurring at the Atlanta Exposition.
 From the Philadelphia Record: Quite funny are some of the experiences narrated by persons returning from the Atlanta exposition. A local newspaper man, who got back from the South on Monday, tells this one on himself. Upon arriving in Atlanta he chartered a hack, and with that fine scorn of pecuniary considerations characteristic of his profession ordered the driver to convey him to the "best hotel in town." Entering the really gorgeous caravansary, he dropped his grip before the desk, held a pen poised above the register and inquired: "What kind of a room can you give me, and how much?" The clerk, a typical Southerner, with sallow complexion, drooping mustache and long goatee, replied, in an indifferent sort of tone: "Well, suh, Ah ken give yo' a fo'th flo' room foh fo' dollahs a day, suh." "Fo'th flo' foh dollahs," repeated the visitor, facetiously, mimicking the soft, Southern accent, "then I presume you can give me a first floor room for one dollar, eh?" "N-o-o, suh," drawled the haughty Georgian, "Ah kein't give yo' a fust flo' room foh one dollah, suh; but Ah ken give yo' a room without any flo' at all foh nothin', suh. Jest go down thar to the bahn and inqir' foh the mewel pah'tments." The Philadelphian made no further attempt to have fun with the natives during his stay in Atlanta.

He Kept His Word.

It was a sailor, up before a London judge for assault. He got bail, and was dismissed, pending trial. He disappeared, and his bondsmen might well have worried, especially had they known that he had gone, on some business, to Cardiff, 170 miles from the court room. There he found himself almost penniless and the day for the trial approaching. What did he do? He set out to walk the distance. It took him seven days. To get food, he pawned most of his clothes. For the last two days of his toilsome journey he had no food at all. In the meantime the sailor on whom the assault had been committed had recovered and sailed away, so that the judge not only discharged the defendant, but gave him ten dollars from the poor box.

Almost Incredible Coincidence.

The recent accident in Manitoba in which A. M. Bell of Portage La Prairie fatally shot J. Muir of Pembina, N. D., mistaking him for a deer, formed part of an almost incredible coincidence. On the same day, a similar accident took place near Sault Ste. Marie, in which a son of Mr. Bell figured. The son was out hunting with a doctor of the town and mistook the doctor for a deer that he was stalking and shot him. The wound, though dangerous, has not proved fatal, and the victim is recovering. A more remarkable coincidence has seldom occurred, father and son on the same day, hundreds of miles apart, mistaking their comrades for deer and shooting them.

- 3. Moore Air Tight heaters, and all sizes Oak Stoves.

Every Cook stove or range, either steel or cast, for coal or wood go at cost. We mean to close out our stock of stoves, and say truthfully that the prices we make are actual cost. If you won't require a stove until next year even, it will pay you to investigate now.

LOWELL HARDWARE CO.

Free Clothes
For a Prophet ..

You know how the old lady quoted Scripture:

"A Prophet Without Much On Her
In Her Own Country."

Now we want Janesville prophets to be well-clothed. A man whose foresight is good deserves to wear good clothes, and we are willing to do our part to help him along. With this in view we offer

A $15 Suit Free to the first person who guesses the names of the republican and democratic presidential and vice-presidential nominees.

The polls will be open until July 7, the day the democratic convention meets. Every purchaser at our store is entitled to a guess—one guess with each purchase of 25 cents or more. Each guess will be numbered and the first correct guess wins the suit.

A Consolation Prize of The Best Hat in the Store...

will be given to the first person who guesses right on the nomination of either the republican or the democratic party. The polls are now open and each twenty-five cent purchase entitles you to a guess as well as to your full money's worth of the Clothing or Men's Furnishings in the city.

A Half Hour with the Spirits.
 "If it hadn't been for you," observed the shade of Napoleon, accosting the shade of the duke of Wellington, "the world might have been mine."
 "That is true," the shade of the iron duke complacently replied. "I must confess that I was too many for you."
 "And yet," the emperor continued, "look here."
 Together they leaned over the cloudy battlements.
 "Observe," Napoleon said, with a broad, downward sweep of the arm; "thousands of books, millions of magazines, portraits my own mother wouldn't recognize—the whole world talking Napoleon."
 "And what of me?" the duke said.
 "Well," Napoleon patronizingly returned, "now and then you are mentioned. In a foot-note maybe."
 Reflectively stroking his high-shouldered proboscis, the duke of Wellington turned sadly away.
 "And to think," he muttered, bitterly, "that I should be responsible for this man's greatness. Waterloo I was."
 —Rockland Tribune.

Offered a Reward.
 Mrs. Grumpp—Did you advertise for poor, dear little Fido?
 Mr. Grumpp—Yes.
 "Did you give a full description of him?"
 "Yes."
 "And did you say our address was on his silver collar?"
 "Yes."
 "And did you offer a reward?"
 "Yes."
 "What did you offer?"
 "I said if the finder would return the collar he might keep the dog."—N. Y. Weekly.

Tariff for Revenue.
 "It's all very well for the people in this town to come to us to have their wrongs righted," said the editor of the Weekly Clarion, in a double-leaded article, "but it is our fixed purpose hereafter to write no wrongs, except upon the easily understood basis of $1.50 per annum, strictly in advance."—N. Y. Recorder.

University Notes.
 A neighbor of old Mr. Anjerry has just returned from Austin. The old man asked him:
 "Did you see my son Tom while you were in Austin? He is a student at the university."
 "No, I didn't get to see him. I didn't put my nose in a saloon while I was there."—Texas Sittings.

But Did He Eat the Pie?
 "This pie," he said, dyspeptically, "is not at all like the pies they used to give me at home."
 "No," she answered in a voice that was very, very gentle. "I take a great deal of pride in my pies."
 And then he changed the subject and tried to be a gentleman.—Washington Star.

Turned Out Fortunate.
 Bacon—Do you think Friday is an unlucky day?
 Egbert—No, I don't. I proposed to my girl on Friday.
 "Well, that proves that it's unlucky, doesn't it?"
 "No, it doesn't. She refused me."
 —Yonkers Statesman.

How She Knew.
 Mrs. Dix—What makes you think your husband will bring you an expensive present?
 Mrs. Hicks—We had an awful row at breakfast, and she slammed the door when he started.—N. Y. World.

A Favored Girl.
 She goes without a chaperon
 And that's one reason, sir,
 Why everybody joins, I ween,
 In looking after her.
 —Detroit Tribune.

THE DIFFERENCE.

She—What is the difference, anyhow, between the new woman and the old woman?
 He—As far as I can see, it is that the new woman is trying to be a man and the old woman is trying to get a man.—Detroit Free Press.

An Incompetent Observer.
 "Mrs. Dixon says she has no confidence in that doctor."
 "No. I believe she took her baby to his office a number of times and he never noticed what a bright child it is."—Day City Chat.

Her Opinion.
 Mr. Bashful (after years of steady calling)—If—if I should propose to—to—to anyone, what would you think?
 Miss Longwait—I'd think the world was coming to an end.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Domestic Triumph.
 She (returning)—How did you get along with the baby, Henry?
 He—Fine. I don't think he cried more than three-quarters of the time.—Day City Chat.

A Good Reason.
 "What makes you think that riding a wheel reduces your weight?"
 "Because ever since I began I have continually fallen off."—Brooklyn Life.

Engaging.
 Miss Silver—What an engaging manner Mr. Robbins has.
 Miss Antique—Introduce me, please.
 —Day City Chat.

MARY ELLEN'S VACATION.

She Met Some Queer People and Saw Strange Sights.

I got a chance to go to Saratoga last summer. The boss' wife took me, says Mary Ellen in Judge. She wanted one of the young ladies to go with her, and she selected me, 'cause she said I suited her complexion. Bought me a suit, too, and a hat. No style to the hat. George didn't like it neither, and he says to me:

"Mary Ellen, by chiminy Christmas! If I thought you was a-goin' up there ter work the widdler racket on some o' them howlin' swells, with them dura black things, I'd send that hat chasin' your last summer's parrysol; and don't you slip no cogs about it, neither!"

The parrysol was one 't he bought me fer not bitin' my nails fer a month, and jest as soon as I got it I went to chewin' 'em ag'in worse'n ever. So one Sunday he fired th' parrysol inter th' East river.

There really is nothin' in Saratoga to amuse a young lady; no shootin' jutes nor roller-coasters, nor nothin'.

An' as fur them waters. U-u-g-g-h-h! I got a chance to dance on one o' th' hops. I had on my white dress, and I prett' near danced th' feller to death. He thanked me and I told him "no thanks at all," and I jest go and take off his jew'ly so's to light'n him up a little and I'd give him another go. But he didn't come round ag'in.

I was out walkin' one afternoon and a pasty-faced dude come up to me and touched his hat and says:

"Miss Cleveland, I believe?"

"Which one o' th' dawters of th' president o' th' United States was you takin' me fur?" I says. An' he says: "Oh, I beg youah pahdon! But I mistook you for a young lady membah of the foah hundred that I met heah last summah. But, weally now, isn't youah name Cleveland?"

"No, but your name is Mud!" I says; and as he was walkin' off I hollered after him: "Stick to these Saratoga waters, Johnny. See if they don't put some paddin' in that holler where yer stum-mick ought ter be."

Next mornin' after I got home to New York Bob brought me my breakfast; a plate of fried pertaters cut about half an inch thick and a tumbler of saleratus water. Said he didn't want me ter change my diet too suddint.

 A Missouri editor offers a year's subscription to his paper to the young woman who will write him the best proposal of marriage.

A NOBLE LIFE SPENT FOR AND WITH SUFFERING WOMEN.

A Life's Work Perpetuated through a Faithful Daughter, and Records of Priceless Value.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]
 What a vast amount of misery and suffering has been prevented by the clear-headed foresight of one noble woman! She had struggled, labored, and sacrificed for the welfare of her sex. The eyes of the women of the world were upon her.

As she recalled the past, and tried to penetrate the future, a smile of supreme satisfaction passed over her honest face as she remembered that her life's work would be perpetuated.

The room in which she sat contained hundreds of volumes of records; and, turning to her daughter, she said,—

"My daughter, this room, as you well know, contains the records of my life's work, in which for many years you have so diligently assisted me."

"By earnest application you have compassed my methods; and it is a happiness to think that when I leave, the glorious work will, through you, go on."

"The mission is a noble one. Do as I have done: never permit a woman's appeal to go unheeded."

"These records tell of every case ever submitted to me; and it is my wish that the facts they contain shall in time prove a much-needed education to the women of the world."

Thus did Lydia E. Pinkham hand over to her daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Pinkham, what may be termed the salvation of her sex; and that wonderful remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which all druggists consider as standard as flour, goes on redeeming hundreds of women from the fearful consequences of female diseases.

The Continental Clothing House!

In order to make this "opening sale" the most memorable one in the history of Janesville, we have decided to quote such ridiculously low figures on our immense stock consisting of Men's Boys' and Children's Suits, Overcoats, Hats and Furnishings that your ONE DOLLAR will have the same purchasing power here as Three Dollars somewhere else. At no time has any house been able to offer you such wonderful bargains as we are now displaying in all departments. On account of lack of space, we will quote you but a few of the many good things which we have in store for you.
